Editor's Note:

Hello,

I hope everyone is well.

I'm aware some of you have struggled to receive the newsletter via email as an attachment. I've spent a lot of time investigating this over the last few weeks and have learnt that particularly BT email seems to be the worst culprit for receiving my emails with attachments. I think (and I am no I/T expert) it's because I'm using a domestic email account and large attachments coming from me to a large number of users with a BT account is not even coming through at all.

So going forward I won't send the newsletter as an attachment but will send a link instead to the 'Church Website' Upper Wansbeck Churches. Sadie will upload the newsletter to the Church Website and by clicking the link in the email I will send you, it will take you straight to the newsletter and also copies of previous newsletters. Hopefully this will mean everyone will get access to the newsletter going forward.

The picture on the front cover was taken last week when I was heading to Bolam Church to clean. The geese were walking down the road and I just thought it made such a lovely sight, the geese heading to church! So captured the moment to share.

Open the Book - Article by Pam Walker

I recently attended an Open the Book event put on in Mitford, in the company of people from churches in Morpeth and the surrounding areas. Open the Book presents the Bible in primary schools in an accessible and enjoyable way, which helps schools meet their statutory collective worship obligations.

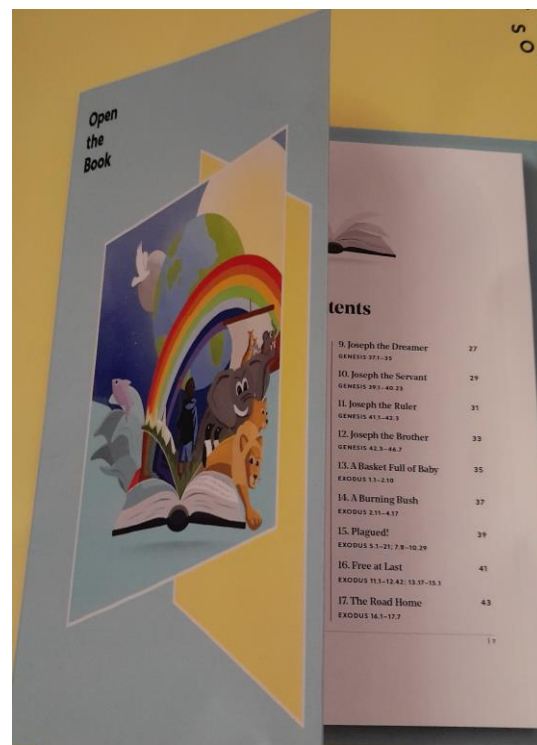

They equip, encourage and enable volunteers from churches to deliver good quality assemblies. It is a three-year rolling programme of themed and dramatised storytelling at no charge to primary schools.

Teams of volunteers throughout the country use drama, mime, props, costume – and even the children and staff themselves – to present the Bible stories in lively and informative ways. Open the Book is a project that brings bible stories to school, something of our religious and cultural heritage that many children now miss out on.

It is not about preaching or teaching but storytelling. We are looking for people who would be willing to join a team to go into our local schools and tell stories. If you want to know more, please look at the open the Book website;

<https://www.biblesociety.org.uk/get-involved/open-the-book/>

If you are thinking of volunteering, please talk to Elaine or Pam

Time Bandits at Hartburn - Article by Pam Walker

A big thank you to John Sadler and Bev Palin of the Time Bandits for two events they put on, free of charge, in Hartburn Church

On the evening of the 19th October they provided a fascinating interactive talk on the First World war, complete with artifacts and Reg the trench organ.

On 31st October, during half term, they again brought along artifacts and stories about the Vikings while Elaine and Pam provided “ Viking Crafts”. Children from several school’s attended with their parents and grandparents, who were equally fascinated by the stories.

No answers were received, so time to end the photo puzzle, I think! Thanks to all previous contributors. Jim.

News from Belsay School

Belsay School

Autumn newsletter

A message from the headteacher: Welcome back after half term, I hope that you all had a wonderful break and found some time to relax and create positive memories with the children. As we embark on our 7 week half term we have lots of wonderful opportunities in school that we know the children will thoroughly enjoy, as well as one or two things that I am sure you will also enjoy! What a fantastic start to life at Belsay. I thoroughly enjoyed the first half term working with the staff, parents and students to find out what life at Belsay was like. This year we are looking to provide residential visits for our children again and we are very confident that the children will embrace the new challenges and have a wonderful time. Our aim for the next 7 weeks is to make lasting memories that the children will remember for years to come. Being in school at Christmas time really is a fantastic time of year and I would encourage everyone to find time to get into schools whenever they can. We have so much to look forward to and I can't wait to see the Belsay approach to Christmas!

Value of the month: This month our school value is Empathy; this is when we think about other people and how they are feeling. We are very good at this already at Belsay and I know this will only be developed further as the month progresses. Our first opportunity to engage with our value has occurred with Pam Walker coming into school to complete a Remembrance assembly with our children. It was a very special time to reflect on how lucky we are to live such peaceful lives free from harm. This week we have also been donating money towards our Poppy appeal. Our Year 6 children have taken ownership of this and it has been wonderful to see our small school making such a big contribution to a very worthwhile cause.

What is happening this half term? Last half term saw the classes establish new names. As we are in such a wonderful rural part of Northumberland we thought tree names would be the best option. The new class names are as follows: Willow (Reception), Maple (KS1), Alder (KS2) and Oak (UKS2). The children have loved the new class names. Over the next few weeks we have some very exciting plans that will take place in each of our classes.

Reception- During this half term we will continue to think about our families and what makes them special and unique. Our families are very important to us and it is always lovely to hear the children talking about special people in their lives. This half term we will put a face to the names when the children make their own family tree. This half term will see Willow class take part in their first school trip. We will visit the theatre to watch Peter Pan. We are all very excited to travel on the bus and can't wait to see the Pantomime. We are already very excited about Christmas and we have one child who's birthday is on Christmas day. A very special time for that child.

UKS2 - During this half-term the children will continue to study more about our Global Themes of Peace and Conflict across the world. We will be reading our new novel, The Breadwinner by Deborah Ellis. Parvana, her mother, and sisters are prisoners in their own home. With no man to go out to buy food, they face starvation.

Oak Class will also be studying all about light during our science lessons, how the eye works, how light travels and how shadows are created. In our history lessons, we will continue to focus on the Second World War and the causes of the atrocities. We will look at how a country prepares for war, how propaganda posters were used to send messages to the population and why Dunkirk and the Battle of Britain were so important to winning the war.

News from Cambo School

Cambo December 2023

In school we are nearing the end of our history and geography projects. Visits and visitors have been fantastic offering the children a wide variety of experiences to support learning and build memories! And now we have to concede Christmas is on the horizon! We can hardly believe it, where has this year gone? Any way at Cambo

On Wednesdays this term we welcomed Michelle Hankinson back into school to teach dance. The children have learnt lots of moves and have thoroughly enjoyed all elements of the routines developed with our topical theme!

On the 10th November 23 we held our Remembrance Service at Cambo Church War Memorial. Our children thought about remembrance and created poppy crosses in commemoration of those who died to keep us free and safe. Our service was led by Rev Janet Parker and lots of the community came to join us.

In November we held our annual Anti-Bullying week. The theme this year was 'Make a Noise About Bullying'! The children thought about the small changes we could make in our lives which could create the greatest difference in breaking the cycle of bullying. We also thought about how we create a safe environment at Cambo for everyone. We agreed that together, we can challenge bullying if we work together.

As part of Anti-bullying week, we also held an 'Odd Sock Day', oh dear it did drive some of the staff mad!

Autumn also heralded 'Children In Need'. The theme for dressing up was... 'SPOTtastic'; We had some fabulous individuals! What photographs they made! We decorated biscuits, made wristbands and completed many, many more activities e.g. creating our very own Pudsey and Blush bears using the autumn leaves. We concluded our event with a Children in Need 'Pants Parade' and refreshments for all! More importantly we raised funds for a very worthy cause, helping those less fortunate than ourselves!

A trip to Gibside kick started our Christmas season for class 1, Y2 and our Preschool children. What fun they had walking on the Christmas trail and seeing Santa! A lovely day for all. We have lots more activities lined up for Christmas including our annual visit to Wallington where we will be sharing in the Trevelyan family's history of Christmas. We will also be visiting the theatre Royal to watch the pantomime, Pinocchio. I have no doubt the children will have a lot of fun booing and hissing as the story unfolds! A visit to the Discovery Museum will take place along with lots, lots more!

Speaking of Christmas, you will be glad to know that our performance this year will be: 'Christmas with The Aliens'. We will be performing at Cambo Village Hall on Thursday 14th December at 6pm. The children work very hard in rehearsals and love an appreciative audience, so we hope to see you there! There will be refreshments and a raffle in the village hall afterwards.

The Christmas service will take place in Cambo church at 2.30pm on Monday the 18th December this year; Weather Permitting! As always, we welcome everyone to join us; we do like a good sing and when better to do this, than at Christmas!

Dawn will be cooking another delicious Christmas lunch on Wednesday the 20th of December with puddings a plenty!

School closes at 1pm on Friday 22nd December for the Christmas holidays; so it only remains for us to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from everyone at Cambo! And to pray for little or no snow, except on Christmas Day [of course]!

News from Whalton C of E Primary School

Wow, what an amazing start to after half term, despite the weather. Over half term, the children collected gifts to fit into a shoebox, as part of The Samaritan's Purse Project, Operation Christmas Child and they have been collected, we are very thankful for the marvellous effort of our families.

In Key Stage 2, the children have started their new Art topic on the Renaissance period. The first artist focus was Michelangelo, who was famous for painting the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel. They had their own attempt at painting on the ceiling by painting on the underside of their desks!

All of the children read or sang, in Church, as part of our service of Remembrance. The children showed their respect and laid their own poppies and a collective Remembrance cross, in St Mary Magdalene's Church, Whalton.

As part of a national Anti-bullying week, we have also welcomed Clennell Education into school, to deliver some workshops to our children in Key Stage 1 and 2 and they also delivered a session for parents. As part of this week, the children also wore 'odd socks' to celebrate our difference, a great way to start the children thinking about their own similarities and differences and how each and everyone of them can make a difference.
